

EUROPEAN COURT OF HUMAN RIGHTS
COUR EUROPÉENNE DES DROITS DE L'HOMME

FIRST SECTION

DECISION

Application no. 3030/21
M.B. against Poland and 926 other applications
(see list appended)

The European Court of Human Rights (First Section), sitting on 5 December 2023 as a Committee composed of:

Alena Poláčková, President,

Gilberto Felici,

Raffaele Sabato, judges, and Liv Tigerstedt, Deputy Section Registrar,

Having regard to:

the applications against the Republic of Poland lodged with the Court under Article 34 of the Convention for the Protection of Human Rights and Fundamental Freedoms (“the Convention”) by the applicants listed in the appended table (“the applicants”), on the various dates indicated therein;

the decision not to have the applicants’ names disclosed;

Having deliberated, decides as follows:

SUBJECT MATTER OF THE CASE

1. The case concerns restrictions on abortion on the grounds of foetal abnormalities which were introduced by the Constitutional Court’s judgment of 22 October 2020. The applicants submitted that as women of child-bearing age, living in Poland they were affected by these changes to the legislative framework.

A. Background to the case

2. Conditions of access to legal abortion in Poland are set out in the Law of 7 January 1993 on family planning, protection of the human foetus and conditions permitting the termination of pregnancy (Ustawa o planowaniu rodziny, ochronie płodu ludzkiego i warunkach dopuszczalności przerywania ciąży – “the 1993 Act”).

3. Initially, the 1993 Act provided that legal abortion was possible until the twelfth week of pregnancy where the pregnancy endangered the mother’s life or health; or prenatal tests or other medical findings indicated a high risk that the foetus would be severely and irreversibly damaged or suffering from an incurable life-threatening disease; or there were strong grounds for believing that the pregnancy was a result of rape or incest.

4. On 22 June 2017 a group of 104 members of parliament lodged an application with the Constitutional Court to have sections 4a(1)2 and 4a(2) of the 1993 Act, relating to legal abortion on the ground of foetal abnormalities, declared incompatible with the Constitution (case no. K 13/17). On 21 July 2020 the Constitutional Court discontinued the proceedings on the ground that the application had been lodged during the previous term of the Sejm.

5. On 19 November 2019 a group of 118 members of parliament lodged a new application with the Constitutional Court to have sections 4a(1)2 and 4a(2) (first sentence) of the 1993 Act declared incompatible with the Constitution (case no. K 1/20).

6. On 22 October 2020 the Constitutional Court, sitting in a plenary formation (thirteen judges), held by a majority of eleven votes to two that sections 4a(1)2 and 4a(2) (the first sentence of that provision) of the 1993 Act were incompatible with the Constitution. Publication of the judgment in the Journal of Laws was postponed.

7. On 27 January 2021 the Constitutional Court published the reasoning of its judgment of 22 October 2020. On the same date, the judgment was published in the Journal of Laws. The judgment took effect on the date of its publication.

8. Consequently, section 4a of the 1993 Act, as it stands at present, allows legal abortion until the twelfth week of pregnancy where the pregnancy endangers the mother’s life or health or there are strong grounds for believing that the pregnancy is a result of rape or incest.

9. The Constitutional Court’s ruling prompted large street protests and demonstrations involving thousands of participants.

B. Applications to the Court

10. In January 2021 the Federation for Women and Family Planning (“FEDERA”), a Polish non-governmental organisation campaigning on sexual and reproductive rights, posted online a pre-filled form for applications to the Court, together with attachments. FEDERA further encouraged women of child-bearing age living in Poland to lodge applications with the Court. Potential applicants were invited to print out the pre-filled application form, add information about their personal circumstances, sign it and send it to the Court.

11. The applicants in the present case lodged their applications using the pre-filled application forms and attached copies of documents prepared by FEDERA (namely copies of the Constitutional Court's judgment, legal opinions prepared by the Commissioner for Human Rights of the Republic of Poland, the Helsinki Foundation for Human Rights and the Polish Bar Council, and press articles). At the beginning of the application forms some of the applicants also added a few phrases describing their personal circumstances. However, most of the applicants merely signed the pre-filled application forms without adding any additional arguments and information about their individual situation. None of the applicants attached any documents or medical certificates relating to their personal circumstances.

12. The applicants complained that they were potential victims of a breach of Articles 3 and 8 of the Convention since the Constitutional Court's judgment of 22 October 2020 had forced them to adapt their conduct and caused them anguish and distress. They further complained under Article 8 that the restriction had not been "prescribed by law" given the incorrect composition of the Constitutional Court sitting in the case (compare Xero Flor w Polsce sp. z o.o. v. Poland, no. 4907/18, §§ 4-63, 7 May 2021).

THE COURT'S ASSESSMENT

13. Having regard to the similar subject matter of the applications, the Court finds it appropriate to examine them jointly in a single decision.

14. The Court refers to its general principles concerning situations when an individual may claim to be a "victim" within the meaning of Article 34, (see, in particular, S.A.S. v. France [GC], no. 43835/11, §§ 57 and 110, ECHR 2014 (extracts), and the references cited therein, and A.M. and Others v. Poland (dec.), no. 4188/21, §§ 72-74, 16 May 2023).

15. The Court observes that in the leading case of A.M. and Others v. Poland (cited above), which concerned changes to the legislative framework introduced by the Constitutional Court's judgment of 22 October 2020 (see paragraph 6 above) it reiterated that it was only in highly exceptional circumstances that an applicant might claim to be a victim of a violation of the Convention owing to the risk of a future violation (ibid, § 77, and also see Tauira and 18 Others v. France, no. 28204/95, Commission decision of 4 December 1995, Decisions and Reports 83-B, p. 112 at pp. 130-31). The Court further found in that case that the applicants had failed to advance any convincing evidence that they were at real risk of being directly affected by the amendments in question and noted that the complete absence of detailed individual particulars or any documentary evidence relating to the applicants' personal circumstances, made it impossible to assess their situation (ibid, § 86). In view of those considerations, the Court concluded that the applicants could not claim to be victims within the meaning of Article 34 of the Convention and declared the applications inadmissible.

16. The applicants in the present case, like the applicants in A.M. and Others v. Poland (cited above), complained that as women of child-bearing age they had been affected by the changes to the legislative framework introduced by the Constitutional Court's judgment of 22 October 2020. They did not claim that they had been denied access to legal abortion but complained of the risk of a future violation of Articles 3 and 8 of the Convention since the national law had obliged them to adjust their conduct because they were confronted with a legal obligation to carry pregnancies to term, even if the foetus was damaged or sick.

17. In that context the Court has already held that while women of child-bearing age in Poland, being exposed to the risk of pregnancy with foetal abnormalities, might be affected by the impugned restrictions on access to therapeutic abortion, in order for an applicant to be able to claim to be a victim in such a situation, she had to produce reasonable and convincing evidence of the likelihood that a violation affecting her personally would occur (ibid, § 78).

18. Nevertheless, in the present case, just as in A.M. and Others v. Poland (cited above) the applicants used the pre-filled application forms prepared by FEDERA without attaching any documents or medical certificates substantiating their claims. They also did not adduce any evidence as to their state of health or of potentially running a higher risk of foetal malformation. Most of the applicants did not even add any arguments relating to their individual situation and simply signed the pre-filled application forms (see paragraph 11 above).

19. Given the material submitted in the present case and the conclusion in A.M. and Others v. Poland (ibid, § 86), the Court finds that the applicants failed to produce any reasonable and convincing evidence that they were at real risk of being directly affected by the amendments introduced by the Constitutional Court's judgment.

20. It follows that the applicants cannot claim to be victims within the meaning of Article 34 of the Convention and that the applications must be declared inadmissible in their entirety, pursuant to Article 35 §§ 1,3 and 4 of the Convention.

M.B. v. POLAND AND OTHER APPLICATIONS DECISION

For these reasons, the Court, unanimously,

Decides to join the applications;

Declares the applications inadmissible.
